How will the £50 Schools' Challenge help Chestnut Tree House?

Chestnut Tree House currently cares for over 300 children and young people with life-shortening illnesses across East and West Sussex and South East Hampshire, both at the hospice and in families' own homes. It costs over £3.5 million each year to provide all our care services. We receive less than 7% from central government so rely heavily on the support of the local community and activities like Chestnut's £50 Schools' Challenge in order to continue providing this vital care to local sick children and their families.

Thank you from all the children, families and staff at Chestnut Tree House for your wonderful support.
